HALF CROP ALL

POSSIBLE, SAYS COL. JOEL FORT

Quality Poor, Manufacturers Short, And There Is No Reason For Cutting Out Next Crop

Colonel Joel B. Fort, who is speaking in the interest of the tobacco pool, says the Lexington Herald, returned to Lexington Sunday from a ten day tour of Kentucky and Ohio. When asked about the crop of tobacco he said:

"I have been growing tobacco all of my life and think that I have had experience enough to make me competent to judge the present condition of the crop. Since I have been here, more than two months, I have traveled over every part of the Burley growing section, and have talked with tobacco growers from every county in the district.

"I have never seen the prospects for an average crop of tobacco as poor as all these years. I have seen tobacco come out of a dry spell into a rainy spell and make fine tobacco. I have never seen it come out of an exceedingly wet spell into a dry spell and make a crop. In all my travels I have seen only one crop large enough to top. Ordinarily the bulk of the tobacco should have been topped by the fourth day of July.

"Hundreds of acres have been abandoned on account of the grass and the weeds during the wet spell. Hundreds of acres have been planted in late corn and millet, and the tobacco which has been cultivated, and from which grass has been taken, is still yellow and shows no signs of growth. Hundreds of acres are blooming only a short distance from the ground, rendering the plant practically worthless."

When asked what was his estimate of the percentage of the crop, he said:

Half a Crop Prospect

"Judging from what I have seen myself, and information that I have received, from reliable and competent sources, I am satisfied that there can not be possibly more than half a crop. Owing to the late season and the impossibility of satisfactorily curing tobacco late, that which is produced will be of a very inferior quality.

"As to increased acreage, that is all a wash. That talk has been gotten up for the purpose of frightening the farmer and those who have tobacco in the pool.

"This will fall of its purpose. The managers of the Burley Tobacco Society well know that there is no surplus in the hands of the manufacturers and a short crop to follow in 1910 makes the excellent crop of 1909 now held in the pool a most valuable piece of property. These facts are being communicated to the poolers. Farmer dissatisfaction is disappearing, and the pool settlement is growing rapidly.

Appreciates Notice

Dear Mr. Babington: The copy of your paper containing the notice of our advertising scheme on "Tide Bond" has been duly received by the writer.

He desires to thank you very much for your kindly notice, and this letter is just to express his appreciation.

Yours Truly,

Evansville vs. Hardinsburg.

The Gold Blooms, of Evansville, one of the classic clubs of amateur ball players in Southern Indiana, will be the attraction at the Hardinsburg ball park next Friday and Saturday. The Hardinsburgers have been playing league ball this season, and do not intend for the Hoosiers to stop their winning streak. A large crowd is expected to witness both contests. Fuchs and Robins will likely "o" the twirling for Hardinsburg.

New Warehouse at Glendene.

Col. Ernest L. Robertson and Frank Ruppert are building a warehouse at Glendene for handling tobacco and produce. It will be 30x50 feet one story and a half high. The L. H. & S. L. were kind enough to let them build the house on their right-of-way without consideration. The railroad has recently turned over to the town a good well which is highly appreciated by all the citizens.

Executive Committee

A. D. Miller, of the Richmond Climax who was elected President of the Kentucky Press Association at its recent meeting at Middlesboro, has announced the following Executive Committee for the present year, viz: Ed D. Shinnick, Shelby Record, Chairman; J. R. Lamon, Mayfield Messenger; J. T. Williams, Falmouth Pandemonium; John Lawrence, Cadiz Record, and C. P. Cunningham, Middlesboro News. Congratulations, Bro. Miller, on the excellence of these appointments.—Winchester Democrat.

Strong For Burley Pool.

Hon. A. J. Thompson, of Gaston, was in Irvington last week looking after the Burley tobacco interests. Mr. Thompson is a red-hot pooler. He believes it is the only salvation for the tobacco grower. He attended the Lexington meeting held recently, and came home full of enthusiasm for the Burley Tobacco Society. He says President Lebus is one of the best business men in the country, and he has all confidence in his ability to take care of the poolers. He says Mr. Lebus has over 500 acres in the pool and why shouldn't he be interested in its success.

Visiting From Kansas City

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard, of Kansas City, Mo., have been the guests of their cousins, Mr. Joe Smart and Mr. Chas. Smart. Sunday they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Conrad. This week they will visit Mrs. Conrad Simons at Tobinsport. They are having hospitality lavished on them.

FARMERS HAPPY.

Big Yield of Wheat and Satisfactory Prices.

Farmers around Glendene who have threshed their wheat are all in fine feather over the yield. They say they haven't had a finer crop in years. The beauty about it is the price $1 per bushel.

The following parties have threshed, sold and delivered: K. G. Robertson & Sons, 1,200 bushels; E. H. Dean, 680 bushels; L. C. Moorman, 810 bushels; Jesse M. Howard, 90 bushels; Jesse Moorman, 700 bushels; Chas. Dean, 300 bushels; Jeff Hook, of Hardinsburg, and Green Bros., of Falls of Rough, were the purchasers.

Gone To Detroit.

Mr. T. C. Lewis, the enterprising Jeweler of Hardinsburg, is taking his vacation this week attending the Jeweler's Convention which is holding its annual session in Detroit this week. Mr. Lewis attends these meetings every year. He says they are a great help to him in his business.

SOLE POWER TO DECLARE POOL VESTED IN VOTES OF GROWERS

With This Guarantee, District Board Elects To Fight Out an Agressive Campaign Along Original Lines--Eventful Meeting Adjourns

From The Lexington Herald

The motion which adjourned an eventful meeting of the District Board of the Burley Tobacco Society late Thursday, also ordered members to buckle on their armor and go forth to battle as crusaders worthy of their cause.

The most important result of a three-day meeting that a love feast closed, was the unanimous determination to defend their convictions and not change a contract that they believed was seaworthy. At least some who came to champion a per cent clause amendment went away convinced that a real peril had been removed.

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN TO START

Arguments which had encroached largely upon the sessions of two days bore good fruit in disillusioning some who had been led to believe that a malady afflicted the Burley District; they departed convinced that designing quackery was the ill.

The eyes of others were opened as to the real source of the dissatisfaction complained of, and the position and tactics of the enemy were made clearer. Confidence was re-established with courage, and a harmonious membership left for homes sanguine that the assurances they carried would abundantly satisfy their constituencies and enlist them in a whirlwind campaign that will be inaugurated all over the district.

NO COMPROMISE GROUND.

The determination of the board to burn bridges behind and wage war without quarter upon menacing influences, was manifest, and a fighting spirit was dominant in the get-away. Consensus of responsibility, they elected to fearlessly fight out the campaign upon original lines.

The issue before the growers at large will be either to take an aggressive stand for the pool and the perpetuation of the movement, or admit that their hearts are with the enemy. No compromise ground will be sanctioned. GROWERS TO RAISE POOL ISSUE.

Resolutions adopted by the board vest in the growers themselves the sole power to declare the pool in effect and with the chance of all to gain, they have the safeguard of nothing to lose. It was the confident belief of the board that in signing his own tobacco the old pooler will become an active force in snatching outsiders, and that the two will weld together into an invincible army. If the strength of the pool is less than what those who form it desire, all will be released, and every grower in the district will be on the same footing.

THE REPORT AS ADOPTED.

Mr. Lebus called Mr. Mann to the chair and after a general discussion the report was adopted. Following is the full text of the report:

"To the officers and members of the District Board of the Burley Tobacco Society:

"Your committee to whom was referred the questions taken up for reconsideration, would respectfully beg to submit the following report, which we recommend as the proper action for this Board, to-wit:

"We will, prior to October 1, 1910, or we will recommend that our successors take such action on or before November 1, submit to the poolers of the 1910 crop all information in our possession as to the number of acres of Burley tobacco pooled in the District, and the number of acres planted and unpooled in said District and place upon them (the poolers) the responsibility of declaring a pool by vote of the various precincts in each county at the time and in the manner hereinafter suggested by the Burley Board or its Committee.

"Each pooler at said election to be permitted to vote upon the question the number of acres he has pooled, and will be supplied with a ballot for that purpose. After said vote is taken at the precinct the result will be reported immediately to the County Board, and a record of same will be made on the minutes of said County Board, and the results tabulated and counted, and reported to the headquarters at Lexington. The result of the entire District will then be ascertained at headquarters by careful computation and count and the question of determining whether or not a pool shall be ascertained by this final count, the majority of the votes to determine the matter either for or against the pool.

Master Zeno Hendrick

Of the two prizes offered in the Hardinsburg school to the seventh grade pupils who would make the best averages in passing to the eighth grade, Master Zeno Hendrick whose picture we present, won the second, he being a close competitor for the first. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Miller and is an attentive hard working student, who promises to be among the leaders in the eighth grade work next year. He is a bright manly fellow whose advancement is far above the average for his years, school advantages being considered.

Earl Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Thomas, won the first prize. He failed to let us have his photograph.

Death of Mrs. Driskell.

Mrs. Driskell, wife of L. N. Driskell, of Lewisport, died at her home there last Saturday of blood poison. She was 34 years of age and the daughter of R. H. Thornhill, of Big Spring, who was summoned to her bedside but failed to reach it before her death. Mrs. Driskell leaves a husband and one little daughter two years old.

Texas Visitor.

Doas Parr, of Wylie, Texas, who has been visiting his brother-in-law, G. B. Cunningham, at Chennault, returned home Monday. He and Mr. Cunningham stopped off at Irvington and Mendota Monday to see relatives. Mr. Parr is a retired farmer.

LAST NOVEL

By John Fox, Jr., Will be Dramatized. "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" Will be Staged in Chicago

It has been definitely decided that the latest work of John Fox, Jr., "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," will be dramatized and put on this winter at one of the leading playhouses of Chicago.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is one of the most popular novels of the past five years, and gives an account of the life in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. The book has been widely read in this section, where he has many kinspeople. The dramatization is by Robert M. Baker, Lexington Herald.

Mrs. R. C. Richardson and son, D. S. Jr., of Louisville, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Beard.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Young, pastor of the Second Memorial church Owensboro is the guest of the Rev. Dr. Mather. Dr. Young will preach at the M. E. church South Wednesday night.

TRIES TO SAVE

ANIMAL'S LIFE, LOSES HIS OWN.

John Frakes, Prominent Citizen of Irvington, Drops Dead After Strenuous Effort To Prevent Horses Death.

FUNERAL SERVICES SATURDAY.

Irvington, July 25.—(Special.)—John Frakes, a prominent citizen of this community and well known for many years as the leading Hotel and Liveryman, of Brandenburg, Meade county, dropped dead from over exertion at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, July 23. Mr. Frakes was superintending the placing of a wagon in a pond when one of the horses attached to the wagon mired down in the mud of the pond. The strenuous effort to save the life of the horse proved too great for Mr. Frakes, and though seemingly perfectly well, when at last the dead body of the animal had been gotten from the pond, Mr. Frakes in a few minutes was seen to throw up his hands and drop dead.

The funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. L. K. May, pastor of the M. E. church, of which Mr. Frakes had recently become a member. The interment took place at Brandenburg Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Frakes leaves a wife (formerly Miss Carrie Drury), one daughter, Miss Carrie D. Frakes, two sisters, Mrs. Fannie Brandenburg of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Roberts, of Union City, Ind.; one brother of Tulsa, Okla., besides a number of nieces and nephews and many sorrowing friends.

Mr. S. A. Stiff Dies At The Age Of Sixty Seven Years

Mrs. Z. C. Hendry visited Mrs. Winfield Hendry at Irvington last Wednesday.

Miss Emma Dowell of Clifton Mills visited her sister, Mrs. C. Y. Avitt last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Gilpin spent last week with his sister, Mrs. Fannie Stiff.

School began here last Monday.

News was received here last week of the arrival of a fine girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wright Chula Vista, Cal.

Henry Cashman was at Vanzant last week putting up stones. He also sold several sets while there.

Garth Chappell and family spent Saturday and Sunday with their brother, Chester Chappell of Irvington.

Again our hearts are made sad and desolate by the death of our honored and beloved brother and neighbor, Mr. S. A. Stiff.

He was born March 25, 1843, died July 19, 1910, age 67 years, 3 months, 23 days at time of death.

Mr. Stiff was a man that was loved by all who had the good fortune to know him.

About the year 1845 he was married to Miss Elizabeth F. Gilpin of West Mowland Co. Va. and unto this union five children were born. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Bush, of Los Angeles, Cal. and Otis of this place; four grand children one brother and two sisters and a large number of friends.

After fourteen years ago he professed faith in Christ and united with the Baptist church at this place and has lived a consistent member since, and during this time has filled various places in the church and Sunday School at this place, being Trustee at time of death. We have not only lost a good neighbor and citizen but the church has sustained a great loss, but God knoweth and doeth all things right and we must be submissive to his will.

The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Big Apple Crop

Col. Bart Cunningham of Chennault says the apple crop in his section is fine. He will have 3,000 barrels on his farm and Abe Allen will have 4,000 or 5,000. The apple crop north is short which will make prices here good. The only trouble he says will be in getting barrels to do the picking.

TEN LIVES LOST IN "FLAREBACK"

Disaster Marks Battle Practice at Fort Monroe.

BIG POWDER CHARGE LET GO

The Premature Ignition of 270-Pound Charge Before Breach of Great Gun Was Locked Scattered Death in the Banks of the Target Crew. Ten Being Killed Outright, Two Mortally and Several Others Slightly Injured.

Washington, July 22.—A breach block of a 12-inch gun of flattery De Russay at Fortress Monroe, Va., blew out during battle target practice, killing three non-commissioned officers and seven privates of the Sixty-ninth company of the coast artillery. Two other enlisted men received injuries which probably will be fatal, and several others were slightly injured. The accident was the worst in the history of the coast artillery corps. Second Lieutenant George L. Van Dusen of the Sixty-ninth company was the only commissioned officer injured. His leg was broken.

Lieutenant Colonel Clarence P. Townsley, commanding officer of Fort Monroe, officially reported the accident to the war department. The accident, he said, was probably due to the premature ignition of the powder charge before the breach block was securely locked in its place. Hereafter the names of ten the dead as reported to the department.

Sergeant Harry G. Hess, Charleston, W. Va., Corporal Charles O. Atkins, Cincinnati, Corporal Albert T. Ford, Dorothy, W. Va.; Privates Roy Duffy, Nankatuck, W. Va.; John W. Chadwick, Tazewell, Tenn.; Oliver W. King, Dayton, O.; Alfred W. Smith, New York; Andy J. Sullivan, Perkins, Ky.; James H. Turner, Ripley, Tenn.; Arlie Adey, Brandenburg, W. Va. Probably fatally injured: Private Judd E. Hogan, Geyer, O. The following were slightly injured: Privates Orville T. Rainey, Findlay, O.; Ellsworth W. Hoffman, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Charles E. Parks, Montross, Mich.; William C. Seibelsberger, Fort Monroe.

A large party of high ranking officers of the army went to Fort Monroe from Washington to see the annual battle practice, which was held as a part of the commencement exercises of the officers' school at the fort. It was to simulate an actual battle conditions as far as possible by firing all the big guns of the fort at an imaginary enemy represented by a moving target, supposed to be entering Chesapeake bay. It was during this practice that the accident occurred. After placing in the gun a projectile weighing 104 pounds and a powder charge of 270 pounds, the breach block is closed and locked before the gun is fired. In the present instance, so ordnance experts here think, a spark from the previous charge must have ignited the powder before the gun crew could lock the breach block. In battle practice, such as was being had, the gunners fire as rapidly as possible. This, it is believed here, resulted in the introduction of the charge into the breach before sparks of the previous firing had been extinguished. The accident is what is technically known as a "flareback." Such accidents have occurred several times in the navy. The coast artillery, however, has been unusually free from serious accidents, this being the first of the flare-back character that has occurred.

DEFAULTER LIVED IN HOURLY DREAD

Years of Suspense Suffered By Lowery.

Utica, N. Y., July 21.—J. Lowery says that from the time he first made false entries in his books at the bank he lived a life of anxiety and dread. He dared not leave his desk even for a day. He never took a vacation. The visits of the examiners were occasions of terrible suspense. The false figures had to be carried forward and renewed from time to time so that the totals would appear right.

Through three or four years Lowery carried this load of care and wore a mask of pensive gloom. He was always smiling and affable to the customers who came to his window, and among his fellow clerks he was jolly and apparently care free.

LYNCHING THREATENED

West Virginia Community Wrought Up Over Outrage Against Child.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 22.—John Jackson, an ex-convict was captured at Clayville, Penn., charged with abducting Mary Maurer, a six-year-old girl of McMechen and of a prominent family. The man is forty years old. He grabbed the child and kept her on a hill all night, subjecting her to indignities. An angry mob pursued him, and fifty shots were fired, but he escaped. He was brought back under heavy guard to prevent lynching and lodged in the Moundsville prison. Feeling runs high here and trouble is feared.

SHE'S REPENTING AT LEISURE

Maryland Girl Became Acquainted With Married and Separated From "Lord Preston" All Within Twenty Days—It Was Then Found That Her Much-Vaunted Castles Were of Aerial Variety and She Wants Divorce.

Mrs. Irene F. Stanley, through her attorney, has filed a bill in the Cecil county (Md.) circuit court at Elkton, for an absolute divorce from her husband, Henry F. Stanley, who in June, 1907, practically had the people in Cecil county wild over a string of titles he alleged was attached to his name. The couple became acquainted, were married, and were separated all within twenty days, when the handsome castles the bride was to reside over in the old country proved to be myths. Stanley, claiming to be Lord Preston, Earl of Aberdeen and several other titles, in 1907 became the guest of Joseph McVey, one of the largest land owners in Calvert section. He dazzled the McVey family with a story of his high connections and immense wealth, but confided to the Dean family that he was embarrassed by the fact that he could not get into his full estates until married, and he offered to give any member of the family the sum of $2,000 if they would introduce him to a young lady who had been accustomed to luxury and that could grace the title of Lady Stanley in England. Stanley was soon introduced to several young ladies, among them being Miss Irene Clayton. Stanley proposed, Miss Clayton accepted him and set July 2 as the wedding day.

Meanwhile he was "confronted" by Miss Clayton, had a lawyer draw up a marriage settlement giving the future "countess" $20,000 a year. The "cast" found the bride's mother had found him out, skipped to Oxford, Pa., where he took a job as a butcher's assistant. Shortly afterward he disappeared altogether.

THE SITUATION OVER IN OHIO

Republicans Divided As to Choice For Governor.

LOOKING TO THE MAIN POINT

In the Convention Upon Which Eyes of the Nation Are Turning This Week the Important Consideration With Leaders Is That Everything Must Be Done to Restore the President's Own
State to the Republicans.

The Republicans of Ohio began early to tune up for their state convention, the first session of which was held in Columbus Tuesday. On only one point is there anything like unanimity of sentiment in the throngs of Republicans on hand, and this is—everything must be done to save the president's own state next fall.

Most of the Republicans on the ground admit the Democrats nominated an exceedingly strong ticket at Dayton and that the slightest mistake now might lead to the re-election of Governor J. M. Harrison. It is asserted that for the president to lose his own state next fall in the first election following the passage of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and other im-

Very respectfully,
M. H. BEARD, Cashier

With this statement we close the twentieth year of our business life and the fourth year of our service in handling estates as guardian, trustee, administrator, etc. In these twenty years there have been good times and bad, times when money was close and times when money was easy and investments difficult to find. We feel that no one will question our claim that we have met all of these situations with credit to ourselves and satisfaction to our patrons. In flush times of plentiful money we have managed our business in a conservative manner and kept clear of wild investments.
In close times we have been as liberal with our borrowers as their necessities demanded, and safety permitted. We believe we can assure the public that we are in position to give them even better service in the future than we have in the past, because we are larger and stronger, and have gained in knowledge by our twenty years experience.

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH

nominated, if not on the first, certainly on the second ballot, the present situation is that it is Brown against the field and a strong field, consisting of Warren C. Harding, James Rudolph
Garfield, Carmi Thompson, Grenville
W. Mooney and Representative Nicholas Longworth, ex-President Roosevelt's son-in-law.

The process of elimination and choice has begun. Cox claims 450 delegates for Brown, 31,000 for the convention. The field insists that Cox is off on his reckoning.

If Senator Burton and Senator Dick received any encouragement whatever from Taft on their visit to Revery it was to see to it that neither Judge Brown nor Garfield was nominated for governor. Brown is an old-time follower of Cox and Cox, it is insisted by those experienced in Ohio politics, is reaching out for control of the Republican organization in the state. Cox for a decade and more has been the Republican dictator of Cincinnati. Since the retirement of Foraker the state has been without a leader, and there are astute ones who say they are perfectly satisfied that Huron himself desires to be state leader and that the developments of the next two days will surely portray this ambition on his part.

In the effort to eliminate Judge Brown it is pointed out that in this progressive period no old-time political boss like Brown and no dictatorial political boss like Cox can be recognized, and that Brown in a campaign against Harmon would be beaten.
Then, too, it is added that all the Democrats would have to do for campaign material would be to trot out W. H.
Taft's speech at Akron in 1901, when as secretary of war in Roosevelt's cabinet, he said that if he could be at home in Cincinnati to vote on election day he would certainly vote against Hos Cox's candidature. Coming along to Representative Longworth, his friends say that under no conditions is he a candidate for governor. The story is that Longworth, who gets his nominations for congress by the favor of Mr. Cox of Cincinnati, informed Mr.
Cox as early as last March that he was out and would not be a candidate for governor; that he desired to remain in congress, which was his best field of action. Thereupon Wade Ellis's executive committee selected Longworth to be temporary chairman of this convention.

In his speech to the convention
Mr. Longworth pointed out the discords of the Republican campaign in the state. He is a member of the ways and means committee which framed the Payne act of the tariff.

UNJUST SUITS FOR DAMAGES

The following timely editorial is from the Hancock Clarion:

There are a number of people nursing alleged injuries as a result of the wreck on the Henderson Route Sunday night. Several competent physicians have examined them, and unite in declaring that none are injured, though it is wonderful how they escaped. These people, it is believed, are preparing for an assault on the railroad for damages, when as a matter of fact they are not damaged. Hancock county juries should remember these things, and when such an issue is reached, give to the railroad that justice they would want for themselves. The railroads have enough troubles of their own, and the time is now here when we can afford to be fair with them. It is about ten to one that when these personal injury cases get into the courts, the railroad has made every reasonable effort to settle them outside, but the parties are attempting to hold them up for an exorbitant sum, if, indeed, they are entitled to anything at all. Let other counties practice extortion.

All the Clarion says is true. It seems that there are few people who get hurt by a corporation who do not try to mulct it for heavy damages. Some people who claim to have been permanently injured, and assert that they must go through the remainder of their natural lives as cripples, hobble around on crutches until their suit for damages is finally disposed of in the courts. Then the crutches are discarded and the "permanently injured" plaintiff becomes as spry as ever. The recovery is something marvelous, and astounds the doctors.

That sort of thing has been worked to an excess in the courts of Daviess county, but the juries in Daviess are fair, and unless a clean, clear case is made out, the verdict is for the defendant.

There seems to be an idea among some people that all you have to do to recover damages against a corporation is to file your suit and have it tried before a jury of farmers: that the farmers are so prejudiced against the corporations that they will return a verdict awarding damages against the corporation, regardless of the evidence. But the farmers of Daviess county have taught several plaintiffs that the farmer may have grievances against a number of corporations, but still he is a fair minded man and is ready to render full justice even unto a corporation that has heaped upon him unjust burdens.

If damages are secured through Daviess county juries the plaintiff must prove beyond question that he is entitled to damages.—Owensboro Inquirer.

STILL CELEBRATING OUR BIRTHDAY

For the last ten days we have been celebrating our birthday. We were not quite certain of the date and were too lazy to look it up in the family Bible. However, we think it is a fine way to celebrate. Mrs. Babbage had apple dumpling every other day and plain cake between times, trying to hit the right date. Our neighbors and friends sent in good things to eat, congratulations and heartiest wishes from day to day. We "dressed up" every morning for the occasion and the only objection we could make to this all-week celebration is that its hard on one's Sunday clothes. We have also received some letters for which we are grateful and one is as follows:

Dear Mr. Babbage: I thought it best to "drap" you a line to congratulate you on passing the 65 mile stone in life, and also congratulating you on successfully steering the News, through 34 years of ups and downs and both coming out on top, all smiles. May you be handed down to the rising generations as the Henry Watterson of the News. No one would have it anything else. We may all wander away from old mother Kentucky but a fond remembrance will always linger with us for her and the many friends we left behind. May the Holy Saints continue to hover over all of you is my earnest wish.

Edgar Adkisson, Red Fork, Oklahoma, July 18, 1910.

An interesting program of the Sunday School Convention to be held at Irvington next Saturday appears on our third page. If you want to get enthused on Sunday School work you should not fail to attend this convention. Irvington is a live Sunday School town as well as a live business town and you'll be treated all right.

We feel sorry for John W. Barr, president of the Fidelity Trust Company, and his board of directors. They were fooled in their man like all honest men sometimes are. But like honest men and heroes they are standing by their old ship pledging their last dollar to pull her through.

The wheat, corn and tobacco crops are fine in this county. There is some complaint around Hardinsburg about the tobacco crop being short in that section, but from all other points the crop is reported good. Breckenridge county farmers never had a brighter future.

The Fidelity Trust Company, of Louisville, is one of the oldest institutions of the kind in the State, yet one of its trusted employees got away with a million, one hundred and forty thousand dollars. The stock has dropped from $3.35 to $1.

There is no doubt but what Irvington folks will put up the best things they have for the Sunday School delegates next Saturday. Former President Roosevelt will speak for the re-election of Senator Lodge in Massachusetts.

Judge Dettie, of the Court of Appeals, has decided that the County High School does not necessarily have to be built at the county seat, but may be at any other point where sufficient funds are raised.

The police of the city of Louisville have made a thorough search over the West for Wendling, the murderer of Alma Kellner, but without results.

Vic Robertson says they are going to have one of the best fairs this year they have ever had. Plenty of fine stock coming.

Good live reading on every page in this paper. You can't head us off when it comes to publishing a live country weekly.

The people of Texas have voted in favor of submitting a Prohibition amendment to their State Constitution.

The tobacco crop in the Burley district is said to be short this season, and there will not be over half a crop.

The political pot is beginning to boil at Hardinsburg. Tom Moore is there.

The editorial page of the Lexington Herald is one of the best in the State.

In Love With Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Barnes, of Rock Island, Ill., came in last week to visit Mr. Barnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barnes, who live near New Bethel, this county. It was Mrs. Barnes' first visit to Kentucky. She went home feeling that she had met a kind, hospitable, social people entirely different from what she had heard about them. Mrs. Barnes said she was actually afraid to come to Kentucky, she had heard so much about the feuds and killings. She returned home feeling proud of Kentucky, and that she had married a Kentuckian.

STORIES WRITTEN

While The Press Thunders

BY LOUISE

It seemed last week that everybody's heart went down—the heavy rain seemed disaster to the wheat crop and people in town and in the country were anything but joyous. We ran across one person who passed the News office with a good recipe for the blues. He said "Well, I just slammed the door on a stack of blues as high as a bed-stead this morning and now I am O. K. I always leave them at home!" He was as jolly as though the Hardinsburg baseball fellows had won a score over Louisville Colonels, and no one would imagine that Jeff Dillon could get the blues. "When you get 'em, slam the door on 'em", said Mr. Dillon.

ways been one of the most prompt customers of the News. Mr. Bowmer also said that advertising played a part in his upbringing. He sent out dollars all over Hancock and Breckenridge county about his cash business and low prices. The cash system is the only certain way to success to hear Mr. Bowmer tell it.

"The editorial you gave us in your last issue, commenting on the announcement made by us, was to the point and I am sure will be a material aid to us. We thank you very much for this as well as the other nice things you have said about us. Very Respectfully, M. B. Kincheloe." Along with the dollars, words of appreciation are worth a great deal and the editor of the News certainly was pleased with this note from Mr. Kincheloe.

Sam Conrad and Marion Beben are making beautiful places out of their homes in the West End. Mr. Conrad has filled his front yard even with the side walk and has an attractive iron fence. On the north side of the yard a stone wall about five feet high has been built and this will be covered with climbing roses in another season. Mr. Beben's place is greatly improved with a cement pavement and walks. No prettier homes are in town than these.

Mayor Barry and the citizens of Cloverport are busy getting ready for the Mason's barbecue August 18. The streets are being cleaned, yards are being beautified and many homes are being "dressed up" for the occasion. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Cordey is being newly painted in buff.

Doings in Cloverport Society

Society has been continuously busy and Miss Louise And and Miss Jennie Mabel Harris have been the cause. One would have to draw straws to see who was more entertained. Miss And or Miss Harris. The latter is a former home girl and Miss And is the daughter of a former Cloverport girl, Mrs. Edgar And, who was Miss Jennie Murray, Mrs. Morris Beard, of Harlinsburg, and Miss And came last Wednesday and were house-guests of Mrs. Fred Perry until Sunday. The affairs given for the young girls last week are as follows:

Miss Jennie Mabel Harris was the guest of honor at a supper given Thursday night by Misses Eva and Edith Plank. The guests were: Misses Reece, Martha Willis, Miss Anne Jarboe and Miss Harris. At eight o'clock several of the young men called at the house and a good old fashioned time was enjoyed.

Friday evening Miss Reece Willis and Miss Martha Willis gave a neighborhood party in compliment to Miss Harris. The invited guests were: Miss Louise And, Misses Plank, Miss Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newsom, Misses Harry Weatherly, M. Thos. Ferry, Colin Miller, Dr. Boone, and Dr. and Mrs. Ray Boone.

Miss Anne S. Jarboe entertained the Tennis Club Friday afternoon and the guests played until dark on them home. The players are becoming more enthusiastic every week over the sport.

Mrs. W. H. Bowmer gave a reception Thursday afternoon from three to five o'clock in honor of Miss Louise And.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry gave a launch party on the "Mary Jane" Thursday evening for Miss And. Twenty-one guests were invited and a delightful trip to Stephensport was made.

Misses Carrie and Claudia Pate gave a twelve o'clock dinner party Saturday in honor of Miss Jennie Mabel Harris. The guests had such a good time for the Pate girls know how to make their friends enjoy themselves.

Miss Louise And and Mrs. Morris Beard were entertained Friday at the McGavock country home and Saturday at the Skillman home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Oelze were host and hostess Sunday at a dinner given in honor of Mrs. Sullivan, of Louisville. SUMMER COMFORT

A Sewing Chair That's That and Lots More.

GIFTS FOR THE TRAVELER.

Amusements For Children on an Ocean Voyage—Summer Window Shades That Make For Coolness—A Delicious Lemonade That Is Little's Known.

Dear Mabel—New York became no intolerably hot that we just rushed down to Belle Harbor one Saturday afternoon not long ago and luckily found a charming cottage which had not been rented, so we took it, and at the present moment I'm sitting on the porch with a glorious view of the ocean in front of me, for you must know that Belle Harbor is only an hour's ride from town and right on the ocean. Well, the chair that I'm occupying is one of the joys of my life, and I stumbled across it quite unexpectedly in a department shop last week. It is called a sewing chair, but it has many other uses. At first glance you would take it for an ordinary rocking chair, with the peculiarity of having solid sides, but when these sides, which are hinged at the seat, are let down its other uses are well understood. These sides become transformed into broad arms on which you may lay your sewing or use your writing pad as I'm doing now. Except for unusual work these arms are as good as a table. But I'm not half through with the attractions of the chair, for you can take the rockers off when you want it to be stationary and fold them up, and the chair will rest firmly on its four legs. What do you think of that for a "stunt" piece of furniture?

Gift For the Traveler.

Dorothy I went abroad last week, and I made her such a pretty little summer present, one that I found so useful the last time I crossed. It's a simple portfolio made of gray canvas, with a single large pocket "for thoughts" worked on the cover. To make the portfolio all that is necessary are two pieces of cardboard the desired size. These are covered with the canvas and lined with violet silk. The two materials I overcast together all round the edges. With a hinge of ribbon the portfolio is complete. Oh yes, I forgot to say that on the reverse side of the cover I embroidered Dorothy's monogram and that two ribbons passed around the portfolio are tied to keep the contents secure. I used my case for preserving prints and drawings while traveling.

And, talking of gifts, when children travel a few well chosen presents will keep them happy. It really takes very little to amuse children. A box of gifts to last through the voyage on a voyage can be arranged that may make all the difference between a pleasant and a disagreeable trip to both mother and child. Such a box was recently got up for some children by a friend of mine. The outside box, of generous proportions, was tied about with a silk fang, for the youthful travelers, particularly if he is a boy, wants to flaunt the stars and stripes on all patriotic occasions. Each small box put into the large one was carefully labeled with directions as to when it was to be opened and how its contents were to be used. For instance, "Box No. 1" contained peppermints to be opened after the first meal on board. "Box No. 2" had an exciting deck game to be opened the next afternoon. A morning gift was a tablet and a set of colored crayons. Another gift was a set of bean bags made of blue linen marked with the owner's initials. A game of cards with the pictures of masterpieces in art was a helpful gift.

An outfit for making paper flowers was a very suitable gift for the girl of the party, and to one of the boys just learning to tell the time a dollar watch was given.

Older little people frequently get restless on long trips. For them was a box of candy made doubly sweet by writing some little personal messages and humorous sayings on bits of paper and wrapping them around the lollipops. And what child would not love to receive a pretty box containing a fountain pen, a book of stamps, a few special delivery stamps, postal cards and paper wrappers? Little red leather record books would not come amiss either, as the young traveler would find most important when making notes of the trip. And what fun it would be to read such notes written by a child of an imaginative mind!

The Double Shade.

I think it is no queer that housekeepers do not know about double shades that are to be had for windows. In summer they are particularly desirable. They are not wonderful new; but, as I have just stated, very few women know of their existence. Most women who want to keep out the glare of the summer sun, while one next the room over which to hang curtains of cool looking net or muslin. This is handsome and unnecessary, as it is possible to buy shades that are green on the outside and white or cream on the inside, or if you want the dark side next the window they can be made in this way.

Mother has just brought me a glass of "frog lemonade." You never heard of it? Probably not. It's a southern drink that is perfectly delicious, and I know you'll bless me one of these hot days if I give you the recipe. Take a large punch bowl, put in a pound of sugar, three quarts of water, the juice of two dozen lemons and one of lime, and add two bottles of seltzer water. Mix all well. Add a dozen or so ripe strawberries or cherries and slice of pineapple and lemon. If not sweet enough add more sugar. When thoroughly mixed add a large square of ice and let the mixture get very cold before serving. Fill the glasses one quarter full of crushed ice and fill up with the lemonade, adding with it some of the fruit. This is a very generous quantity, but the proportions could be easily reduced. "My Wife"

Call her that, won't you, whenever you speak of her. "My wife" that has a good, strong, true ring that does the soul good. So many men speak of her as "she" thinks this or that.

The woman who never gets higher in the mind of her husband than "she" never holds a very close relation to the great world about her. She stays in the home; she does all that comes to her to do faithfully and well; she lives and loves and wears soul and body out and never is known outside this little round, save by him who sees and knows us all to be the very heart core. But "my wife" there she goes now

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though my life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. POST, 2207 W. Franklin St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaint is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and today is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

Queen of the home she loves so well and graces so beautifully. Her place is warm in the heart of the man who honors her with this, the only title she ever should have applied to her. "My wife" she is part and parcel of every farm operation. She is the woman of her husband's counsel and his guide, his stay in times of trouble and his helper always and everywhere. She holds his hands when storms come and cheers him in all the dark days of sorrow. She is trusted because of every farm operation. She is the woman of her husband's counsel and his guide, his stay in times of trouble and his helper always and everywhere.

"My wife" is honored by her little ones. "She" is the very life of the word. If it could only be blotted out and in its place be written that better and dearer and sweeter name, "wife!" You love your wife, don't you? Of course you do. She is the one for whom you would do most and strive most to live most. Then give her the most beautiful of names,—"wife!"—Farm Journal

Household Hints.

Do you know that coffee stains, even when there is cream in the coffee, can be removed from the most delicate silk or woolen fabrics by brushing the spots with pure glycerin? Rub in lukewarm water and press on the wrong side until quite dry. The glycerin absorbs both the coloring matter and the grease.

Do you know if a cloth is wetted in vinegar and wrung out as dry as possible with the hands and wrapped around cheese and then the whole put in a large paper bag and kept in a cool place the cheese will be free from the moisture and freshness of a newly cut cheese and will not mold.

Do you know that in peeling apples the brown scum that generally appears on peeled slices can be avoided by setting each slice as it is peeled in a basin of cold water? Thus no contact with the air is possible, and the stain is avoidable.

The water draws out the acids, and there is a sacrifice of flavor to color if this plan is used and the apples are soaked too long. Any discolored slices will turn white again if rubbed with a piece of lemon.

Do you know that sometimes the most careful washing will not remove the flavor and odor of food from the utensil in which it was cooked? This is frequently the case with fish, onion, cabbage, etc., but there is a remedy which may be a little trouble and yet is well worth trying. After any of these articles have been cooked wash the utensil well with soap and water. Then nearly fill it with cold water and for each quart of water add one tablespoonful of dissolved washing soda.

Place on the fire and let the water get boiling hot. Now pour the water into the sink. Rub the utensil with clean water, and on wiping it dry it will be found perfectly sweet.

EVERY FARMER

As well as every business man should have a bank account.

WHY?

Because: Your money is safer in the bank than anywhere else. Paying your bills by check is the simplest and most convenient method. Your check becomes a voucher for the debt it pays. It gives you a better standing with business men. Money in the bank strengthens your credit. A bank account teaches, helps and encourages you to save. This bank does all the bookkeeping. Your bank book is a record of your business.

A Change in Furniture Covers.

There is a change in the materials selected for loose summer coverings for furniture. The pale tans and grays that have come out of the closets, as the case may be, chairs and sofas for a number of years may have the quality of coolness recommended, but they were certainly depressing. Now it is the fashion to make the slip covers of pretty cretonnes, not necessarily light, but in cool looking greens and browns, soft blues and dull pinks. These are much prettier than the linen and will last an entire summer without a visit to the laundry.

PRINCETON'S EYE ON WOODROW WILSON

Princeton's President May Be Democratic Candidate for the Governorship of New Jersey.

By J. A. EIGHTON. PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON of Princeton university is being looked upon by the New Jersey as a preliminary to his nomination as the Democratic candidate for president. That is the latest big political fact that has challenged the notice of the American people.

The sponsors of Wilson's boom for president and therefore of his candidacy for New Jersey are the New Jersey as a preliminary to his nomination as the Democratic candidate for president. That is the latest big political fact that has challenged the notice of the American people.

For all of these several reasons and some other political considerations, it is felt that Wall Street is back of the move. They recall that Colonel Harvey fought Roosevelt, that Roger Sullivan was read out of the Democratic party by Bryan and that ex-Senator Jim Smith has long been regarded as a little brother of the trusts.

However these things be, the big papers of the country are taking Woodrow Wilson's candidacy for governor of New Jersey seriously, and if he should be nominated and elected to that office his candidacy for the presidency would be more serious yet. Therefore he is a factor to be reckoned with.

Mentioned For 1908. It was in 1904 that Colonel Harvey first mentioned Wilson for president. He threw it out as a mere brilliant remarking thought, like so many of the Harvey suggestions, but contrary to his expectations and his experience—"it caught on." All sorts of letters were received from all sorts of corners of the land approving the proposal. For once in his life Colonel Harvey had struck a popular chord, so he kept on booming Wilson.

True, nothing came of it in 1904. Bryan wanted that nomination, and the Democratic party wanted him to have it. Now apparently both Bryan and the party have changed their minds and there is a chance for somebody else. "Why not Wilson?" says Harvey, so he tries for the delicious experience of again striking the popular chord. But he has grown wiser in the four years. He has learned that the American people demand in the presidency a man of some political experience. So he decides to try to make Wilson a candidate in the governorship of New Jersey, and so qualify him for the bigger job. At least to a man up a political tree that looks like the psychology of the proposition.

Let us give Colonel Harvey due credit for one thing. He has again caused that coveted popular chord to vibrate. The talk of Wilson for governor is buzzing all over New Jersey, and soon the gossip of him for president will be booming throughout the country.

Wilson a Cleveland Democrat. Woodrow Wilson was a friend of Grover Cleveland. While the ex-president was a lecturer at Princeton the two frequently discussed politics and kindred topics. Their views were in some accord, both on the high standards, individual honesty and courage, both being old school Democrats, and both opposing Bryan. Public affairs are congenial to both. Wilson, for, while his highest reputation has been gained as an educator, his chief interest is political economy and government. President Cleveland, who was born in Virginia or because he once practiced law in Atlanta, or it may be due to temperament.

Wilson is not a political economist, but a historian, some of whose works have been read to the Congress in 1885 and immediately gained him a reputation as an original thinker; "The State," which came out in 1885, dealing with all branches of constitutional government; "Division and Reunion," covering American history from 1829 to 1885; "More Literature and Other Essays," "George Washington," "History of the People of the United States."

Most of these books are standard authorities in colleges, and of them show research, scholarship and in places brilliancy. "Division and Reunion," which was written from the viewpoint of the southern, reveals a breadth and wholesome Americanism that rob it of offense for northern readers.

Has Grasp of Events. In all his political and historical writings Dr. Wilson shows himself a fundamental Democrat with a peculiar insight into the spirit and purposes of the founders and builders of the nation. He is also a lecturer who speaks before popular assemblies as well as before educational and scientific bodies. His voice is said to resemble that of Henry Ward Beecher.

Dr. Wilson is fifty-three years of age and was graduated from Princeton at the age of twenty-two. He was christened Thomas Woodrow, and in college was called "Tommy," but like Grover Cleveland, who was originally Stephen Grover, he assumed the name of Woodrow. Wilson studied law in the University of Virginia and practiced in Atlanta for two years. It was while in Georgia that he met and later married Miss Louise Axson, a belle of Savannah.

Of the trusts he has said: "The thing that keeps water in stocks is secrecy." If this board were taken out of the sluiceway the water would all run out, and then people would know what they had left."

College Presidents in Public Office. We have had much talk of the scholar in politics, but outside of diplomatic positions and a few commissions we have never placed a college president in public office.

President Taft made Professor H. C. Emery the head of the tariff board and asked President Hiram A. Yale to take first place on the commission to look into stock watering. James B. Angell, Andrew D. White and some others have been recognized in foreign ambassadorships. Jacob Gould Schurman was on the Philippines commission, but we never put the head of a college at the head of the nation.

There is one exception, I believe, as James A. Garfield in his youth had been president of a small college. Why should we not draft the knowledge, training and high ideals of the teachers in our government service? For example, why should not the trained political economist have some part in the actual working out of the political economy of the nation? If it be objected that they are only theorists, then give them a chance to correct their theory by practical experience. Both the college and the government would be the gainers, the government in exchange for the college.

Wilson says that McCosh was known to crack a joke only once. It was at an evangelist alliance attended by ministers of various denominations. Dr. McCosh was there as a Presbyterian. The presiding officer, a Baptist, remarked:

"Brethren, I presume that, whatever else our differences may be in denominational belief, we can safely say that the Apostles' creed is a platform upon which we can all stand."

Theodore Dr. McCosh leaned over to his neighbor, the Methodist minister, and whispered in his rich Scotch brogue:

"I should not care to descend into hell with an Episcopalian."

Here is another good story that Dr. Wilson tells: A long winded and ancient southern lawyer had been making a plea for three whole days. The judge became impatient and in as polite a way as he could admonished him to cut it short.

"And do you know," says Dr. Wilson, "the old barrister declared that the last four days of his argument were a marvel of condensation."

Recommended Own Portrait. A Princeton man now located in New York relates the following anecdote of a chance meeting with Dr. Wilson:

Going into Scribner's bookstore one morning this gentleman saw a smooth faced, middle aged man in glasses and without a hat and naturally took him for a clerk. Woodrow Wilson had just been elected president of Princeton, and the former student wanted to find out something about him. Of the supposed clerk he asked for some book by Wilson containing his portrait.

"There is no portrait of Wilson in any of his books," replied he of the glasses, "but if you will look in"—here he handed a certain magazine, giving the number and page—"you will find a fair likeness of him."

Then, picking up a hat, he bowed and went out.

"Do you know who that was?" asked the mystified Princeton man of a real clerk this time.

"Professor Woodrow Wilson," the clerk answered.

Here is one of Dr. Wilson's mottoes: "You don't send a boy to college to get an education; it's to find himself."

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness. It causes nervousness and sleeplessness, and when the kidneys are out of order or diseased, new ones disappear when the old ones are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born with diseased kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine smells the strong or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depending upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about it.

Swamp-Root is a natural remedy, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers from kidney and bladder trouble. Just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make a mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SCRATCHING POSTS FOR HOGS

Plant One Or Two And Note The Comfort They Afford They Are A Cure For Vermin Too

A modest demand which every hog would make if he knew how, would be for a scratching post. Such posts, in the opinion of many hog growers, are not only a source of great comfort to hogs, (the picture of a hog or a pig scratching himself and stinging grunting is worth a couple of hours of any man's time in doing up a pig post), but the post moreover be made useful in ridding the animals of lice or scabies. A successful Maryland hog grower adopts this plan. Firmly plant in the hog run a block of oak wood four inches in diameter. Coil a manila rope around the post, as high as the hog stands, and staple it so securely. Then thoroughly saturate the rope with crude petroleum, and it becomes an ideal scratching post for hogs and pigs. They will rub against it continually, and oil is fatal to vermin. Kerosene can be used but it evaporates too readily. Washington, D. C. Guy E. Mitchell.

Those Pies Of Boyhood

How delicious were the pies of boyhood. No pies now ever taste so good. What's changed? The pie? No. It's you, N. Y. You're old, healthy, rich, the vigorous lives, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood. Your digestion is poor and you blame the food. What's needed? A complete tending up by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels—Try them. They'll rest your bowels, and appetite and appreciation of food and fairly saturate your body with new health, strength and vigor. 50 cents at Severs Drug Co.

Appropriate.

The worshippers in a certain chapel had some trouble to keep their faces straight a short time ago. During the service some confusion was caused by a gentleman who accidentally ignited a box of matches in his pocket and was trying to put them out, while his alarmed neighbors struggled equally hard to help him. The minister, being short-sighted, could not make out the reason of the disturbance, and, thinking to diplomatically cover the incident, he innocently said: "Brethren, there is a little noise going on. Until it is over let us sing 'Sometimes a Light Surprises.'"—London Advertiser.

Back to Railroad

To assume his new duties as city ticket agent for the Southern Railway in Louisville, a position to which he was recently appointed, Harry H. Board will leave Lexington Friday for the Falls City. Mr. Board has been the efficient and popular manager of the Postal Telegraph Company's office in this city since March 1, but resigned recently to go with the Southern. While his friends here regret his departure, his new position is more in line with his previous experience, as he was formerly with the Southern and also with the Henderson Route as ticket agent before coming to Lexington.

Mrs. Board went to her home in LaGrange, Ky., Monday to remain there for a short visit with her relatives and until they could obtain a suitable location in Louisville, when they will go to housekeeping.—Lexington Herald.
